ABOUT TIM

I grew up in Chipstead and, after living in London for a number of years, moved back here five years ago. Chipstead is now home again to me and my young family. I work in finance in central London and so I regularly commute into London Bridge, so understand the challenges that brings.

Whilst living in London, I was a councillor on a London Borough for 8 years during which time I delivered on my pledges to local residents. I will use this experience and my knowledge of the local area to ensure local residents' issues are raised and their views represented in the Town Hall.
